

TKHS Digital Media students submitted videos to the Michigan Interscholastic Press Association (MIPA) video journalism contest. Entries ranged from Public Service Announcements (PSA's) to Commercials to Music Video. Of the 7 entries submitted, 3 were honored. Two commercials were given honorable mention awards. Seniors, Nate Runals and Eric Wood from the class of 2007, completed the project at the end of their senior year won an honorable mention for their commercial "Fat Tony's Pest Extermination Service" and current Juniors Jacob Bauer and Dylan Hamilton also won an honorable mention award for their "Mountain Dew" commercial. Juniors Nate Evans, Tiffani Harrington along with senior Tony Ruerink received a 3rd place award for their Music Video "Halloween Rap". This was the 2nd year in a row that Thornapple Kellogg High School has placed in the Music Video Category. Nate, Tiffani and Tony were also recognized for the same video from schooltube.com, which is a website that hosts school approved videos. They were honored with video of the day for April 2, 2008. To view the "Halloween Rap" video go to www.schooltube.com, type TKTV in the search box, and click most viewed. You will also see other video posted from the digital media class.