

Ending summer is never fun, but coming back to school with everything done is so cool. Seeing all the new things like the auditorium, the school store, the new locker area and more is cool! The school is much bigger and nicer! The students seem to like it, and seem to have a great time hanging with friends in the chill zone. The new and improved school has brought a lot of bright smiles to TKHS.

Check out the construction pictures to see how to students are enjoying the new school.
